Write-up: -

I had an opportunity to participate in this initiative organised by the Women Cell of BMSCE which included walkathons and seminar talks from various well-versed spokespersons from different walks of life. I learnt the hardships women face in this society and why empowerment of women is essential. I came across some inspiring tales of the successful journeys of guest speakers and their endeavours in life. The major take away from this initiative was the need for empowering women to participate fully in all aspects of life to build stronger economics, and improve the quality of life for families and communities. We need to promote equality between women and men in all aspects of economic, social and political life. It includes raising their status through education, awareness, literacy and training. It also includes the authority to take decisions. When a woman makes a crucial decision, she feels empowered. Women's empowerment is the most crucial point for the overall development of a country.
