Write-up: -

I being a rotractor of BMS College of Engineering, had the connect with the parent body, Rotary who are an international organization connected globally and are known for their several philanthropic activities like establishing Blood Banks, Hospitals, Schools, Public utility services, they are also known for their drive-in eradication of polio globally. I had an opportunity to work with Rotarians of Rotary Bengaluru Reach Out, who were taking up several relief activities during this pandemic. I volunteered in few of their service activities where they took up awareness program for general public about this pandemic and took part in few of their relief activities.

I had the opportunity to do volunteer work in the relief activities like distribution of dry ration to the underprivileged and of those people like daily wagers who got affected with their normal life since there was a lockdown and were deprived of earnings. This is where we helped in educating them of wearing masks, maintaining social distance and screening them for body temperature using thermal scanners. We also distributed masks, sanitizers and few vitamin tablets to boost immunity. Rotary Reach out Club also did free health camp by doing sugar test and checking Blood Pleasure and also free medicines were distributed. Orthopaedic Screening camp was conducted and free bone density test was done for the needy.

It was an enriching experience and a great learning opportunity to be a part of this organization and its service projects. We were successful in helping the needy by providing relief measures, educating people about precautionary safety measures, health and hygiene, and also equipping them with standard protection materials, medicines, and other essentials. By volunteering and being part of this journey, I have improved on qualities such as teamwork, communication, confidence, empathy, self-awareness and problem solving. I have learnt that there is satisfaction and pride in serving the society and by involving ourselves in such selfless activities.
